

Part 2 – Externalization of the Christos Energy

Repentance and Divine Will – Declaration For The Freedom Of Humanity, St Germain, 3rd September 2022

INVOCATION: Mighty Infinite Presence, All-Pervading Intelligence, All-Pervading Substance of the Cosmic Christ White Fire Light Substance, Ascended Jesus Christ Now Manifest through Us your Mighty Radiance! Out of the Fullness of Your Radiant Life, Fill Us with Your Agape Love to go Forth in the Service of Humanity, Mother Gaia, The Elementals, Devas, and Angelic Host. ‘I AM’ That ‘I AM’

Peter: Beloved Brother, St Germain, In Light of the Wisdom spoken of within Part 1 which has now been physically, mentally, and emotionally experienced for even Greater Understanding of where humanity is today within the processes described by you! I quote,

‘There must come a complete ‘Shift in Consciousness’, else all the mind is doing is to rearrange what it has done in the past. We have been very clear in Our Instructions Dear Brothers and Sisters, that if the New “I AM’ One World Nation’, the Radiation Centres, Communities, etcetera, are to become Divine and Immaculately Conceived Realities, then all of the structures of the old consciousness ‘MUST’ give way to the New. You cannot continue with the old ways based upon old structures, old formulas, old human thoughts, laws, rules, and orders. All present foundations, organizations and businesses must be Transformed, Recalibrated, Rejuvenated, or ‘dissolved’ in their present forms; all governments MUST EVOLVE or self-destruct, else the “I AM’ One World Nation’ will have no Substance and it too would be destined to self-destruct. Just as the present world is showing you, right there before your very eyes today! Just look at the old consciousness playing out around the world and particularly in Europe and America as We speak. The destruction of life and property, of human rights and most of all, the Heart where Peace should Reside.’ End Excerpt

I am feeling, having now felt a huge ‘Shift’ in that ‘Consciousness’ and in most cases who went through that experience within the EGA, a sense of Understanding and Peace has been found. I am sensing that this complete purge of all old thoughtforms, beliefs and miscreations have, more or less, found a New Balance, which does prove to the human awareness that Divine Love, Compassion, Higher Understanding and Forgiveness can at least begin a Greater Preparatory Acceptance that while Abstraction can and will be painful for so many, it is indeed a necessity that cannot be avoided if one desires to step closer toward the Embodiment of the Christ or Christos Energies. There is no question in my mind, that the Impulse of Divine Will through the Power of Agape Love can be extremely destructive, not in the sense of negativity but rather the Truth of that which is not of God or Universal Consciousness and must be dissolved no matter what! Human Evolution cannot go backwards now for while mankind is at the point of complete abstraction of all iniquitous and human mis-creational activities that abuse the God Given Right for every human being to be Free from all forms of tyranny, human life, human lifestyles and human life miscreations in all their forms, must be Surrendered to God or Universal Consciousness. Human 'Free Will' is a Cosmic Law but sooner or later it too will be Surrendered to Higher Laws. Can you offer some words of reassurance to those who may read this Discourse in the times to come please!

St. Germain: Greetings Dear One, Indeed and I have a lot to say upon this subject that may still find some resistances who are not yet aware of the Gravity of trying to hold onto the old beliefs, programs and desires to stick with the old way of human consciousness of doing 'anything' here upon the Planet Earth beginning Now! I tell you in no uncertain terms, nothing one creates today or in the future based upon any paradoxes of existing human creations will last for more than a decade, everything will self-destruct by means of incorrect application and use. NOTHING that exists in human awareness will be recognizable to those who DO NOT Follow this Simple Divine Truth. GOD IS SIMPLE.

If something does not flow with Ease and Grace, then it is not Simple and therefore must self-destruct for it is not founded in the Truth or Accuracy of the Creation by which the Immaculate Conception is the foundation in Holy Union To Be Created. You see Dear One, the EGA was attacked to close it down, to maim and destroy it, consciously, subconsciously, or unconsciously and it was also attacked from within the psychic and astral realms through unsuspecting individuals. They cannot say that we have not been telling them that unless they remain True to their 'I AM' Presence in anything they do, such renting and tears in their auric field will keep them tethered to the old human consciousness and life conditions. It is a tough lesson to Learn, but be Learned and experienced to Know This Truth, it Must Be So and there are no exceptions to this Law; The 'Law of One' and The 'Law of the Circle'! The next time, however, the lessons will be far more intense and the experience far more painful!

We are going to speak of what is required now to move forward shortly, but let Us just finish up on this past event to dissolve all thoughtforms and beliefs that are not of God's Divine Will and why certain decisions were made to Rightfully Apply Right Action in Accordance with Cosmic Law through the use of Agape Love. Nothing is by accident Dear One's and as this is not a human plan, all must be allowed else it would be founded in separation consciousness and We cannot diminish the Law of One by avoiding such necessities to occur. The EGA is not Founded in Separation Consciousness.

As you now know the Elemental Grace Alliance is a Ray 1 Divine Plan, It is Founded in Agape Love and as the Intensity increases from the Great Central Sun of the Cosmic

Sacred White Fire Light at the Expression of Agape Love, it's Aim is to Unite within Unity Consciousness or destroy in separation consciousness. So, The EGA has just experienced Agape Love from within a separation consciousness, not one of Unity Consciousness. However, those who remained as best they could in an attempt to hold the Ashramic Group in some form of Unity and continue to do so, because of their lack of experiences in some ways, fell victim to the unease and negativity to varying degrees! Those wholly in separation conscious went through a much bigger lesson of the experience of human states of imbalanced thoughts, emotions and in some cases physical pain and injury or illness.

This situation began by Me with forewarned awareness that it was pending. But who was aware of the detail of such potentials. You can if you wish go back now or at your leisure and read both Discourses given to you prior to this upheaval! You may believe them or not, it is not important, for the Truth cannot be negated by either condition.

Dear Brothers and Sisters, In the Discourse Bounty of the 'I Am' Activity Discourses I told you,

"The Elemental Grace Alliance is not a Group! It is a Living Organism, that was Conceived and Consecrated not by any human being, but by Shamballa Itself! You have been told by Lord Melchizedek that the EGA is an Ashram in its own right! Albeit in its early stages of formation. However, just because it is in its early stages of Full Manifestation, every step of the way has been Divinely Orchestrated and those who Act as the Guardians, Curators, Custodians, Stewards and Administrators are all following the Universal Laws that pertain to the God Manifestation towards its Perfection. In this Light then, We are Over Lighting those who are making the choices that MUST be made as if it were already a Fully Manifested Ashram of Consciousness, Circle of Light, Christ Council, Ashram, whatever you would like to call it. We KNOW mistakes will be made, We KNOW errors shall be implemented, but more than that We KNOW and SEE how these are made and in so from a point of All-Pervading Light, All Knowing, We can allow such mistakes and errors to be played out, for We KNOW the Heart Intentions, We KNOW the reasons why the mistakes and errors are made, and We Know they are only short lived and can be overcome without unnecessary delays.' End Excerpt.

In Divine Order of Divine Economy, I also bring to Light another excerpt from Part 1 of My Transformation Alchemy Class that will hopefully allow full transparency or what has taken place and how it was engaged and allowed. I Speak here of the absolute need to Qualify through the Divine Mind Power of Divine Understanding.

'Examine then how Understanding and Illumination Serve all the Other Virtues of the 'I AM' Presence. Without Divine Understanding, the facts of limited situations on Earth and the Methods of Operations on the Higher Planes of Existence, faith, is blind and wavering, sinking beneath the waves of turmoil. With Understanding, Faith is as firm as a Rock and as unshakeable. Without Understanding the proper Illumination, the Strength is strictly human willpower and is forced. Without Understanding, Love, no matter how sincere, how well intentionally applied, is simply an impulse of force that, has no depth or direction and may when reduced to its simplest form, is wrongful action, serving only the ego-personality. It is nice to feel love, and for others to know that you feel it, but what can love do without the True Virtue of Understanding?

'Expressing Divine Will without Understanding the 'why' and the 'what' you are doing in that situation, makes you a puppet without a mind of your own. The use of power and mastery without Understanding and considering all the factors over which you command, is senseless and can be ruthless. And I do not mean Ruthless in the context of Ruthless Compassion, for in this case Ruthless Compassion comes only from the Heart, when Rightfully Applied from the Divine Virtuous Knowing the Truth of Understanding. The Virtue of Imagination will set forth proper Visuals into the Ethers for Manifestation, but without Understanding the Environment in which you are Acting, or Applying your Love in Action, the consequences, the efforts involved, the basic history, simply is fantasy: and is not based on Fact, Truth or Reality of that situation or exchange.

'To Develop and to Direct a New Ashramic Group Living Organism within the Framework of Divine Economy, to put into any form of operational system, to conduct any study faculty or even to Engage within this Alchemy Class as a Unified Group of Dedicated Souls, without True Understanding of the needs of those with whom you interact and exchange, the future potential and capacity of each individual part of the Living Organism will remain in disarray. To Express Zeal or Enthusiasm for a job, a task, a function, or any engagement at all, without Understanding the facts involved, burns out the purpose before it can become a lasting and beneficial Flame, A Light, a Circle, or a Divine Beacon in the darkness of your efforts. To Call Forth a Rejuvenation of Life Force Within, to reproduce more of the same of your thoughts, lives and creations without Understanding their Place and Service in the World of your Future, is to bring forth more things or conditions than can be controlled or can be used productively in any situation where you are operating at this present moment.

'To Truly make My Point to deny what is, to try to Eliminate what exists without Understanding the Principles and the necessities of that Renunciation, essentially is to throw the good out with the error, the 'baby with the bath water' as the cliché goes!!! Remove the most important things, and not learning the lessons now, they will simply need to be repeated within another cycle. Working to discover Divine Understanding and putting it into Rightful Application Will Save the Children of God from any unnecessary disparities. Consequently speaking, there is no discrimination in Divine Judgment, sorting or grading of the information and the needs involved in any situation. The Need for Understanding like all of the Other Mind Powers of the 'I AM' Presence Serves Everyone and the Whole of Oneself.' End Excerpt.

So where to from here? First understand that while the EGA has lost many Dear Souls in the past, you will lose more as time progresses. Others will come and some will stay, and others will go also, but Be Aware that the Elemental Grace Alliance is here to stay to complete the Divine Plan as it is set out within the Core of It's Being! That of Shamballa, Hierarchy and Humanity. It is already 'Written in the Stars' to use this terminology of sorts! The Victory is Guaranteed! And no human or any other influence will stop it or even slow it down from this point forward. Cosmic Law Remains the ONLY Authority Here and There.

The first thing is to Repent! But do not be caught with this word either not as the word sin has caught out humanity, where religions have used their own definitions to gain power for their hierarchies and private agendas. Sin is nothing more than the wrongful application of Universal Consciousness as K-17 defined it in His Discourse. So let Us use that which Padma Aeon wrote in his book 'The Christ Blueprint' about Repentance and its rightful metaphysical meaning.

'Elijah is a Prophet of Divine Will, and True Repentance. The true meaning of repentance was corrupted by the church as a means of gaining power for their priests. Repentance is not thinking we are flawed and imperfect, needing another to make us feel validated, to forgive us for our sins. There is no guilt involved.'

'Repentance is sounding a call for yourself, and by extension others, to hear the voice of the soul, and to re-gather all the scattered and fragmented parts of yourself back into wholeness, to recollect and reunite all parts of yourselves around this one voice of the soul. In this gathering, we recollect ourselves and return back to our original source, our original wholeness.'

'Repentance gives people an opportunity, a crack in the veils that allows them to hear the call of their own true nature, to return back to the still small voice within, that always Knows. This voice, that is always present, has the Power to follow its guidance, its original memory of our unique soul blueprint, in all situations.'

'Repentance serves to bring us into Divine Will, the Will that serves Love. There is no love without will. Will creates the basis, the foundation, the platform for which Love can spring out and express itself and be anchored and sustained within the maelstrom of forces that create the world you live in today.'

'There are no rules in Divine Will. There is no dogma or doctrine. Its actions are different for each one of us, yet its results in our individual lives are the same; surrender and repentance. Repenting leads to a surrendering, and a forgetting, about who and what you were before, in order to step into a whole new, You, sloughing off the old skin of the separated self, just like a butterfly does out of its chrysalis. When we repent, we come out of the cocoon of the ego, open our eyes, and enter the realm where we can be a light unto others by shining our own light brightly, a light that is shining brightly because it is surrendered to the flows of Life.

DIVINE WILL

'This Sun that never sets is the Divine Will, found burning in all beings. This Will anchors yourself into the stream that keeps us all connected, the Will that dissolves our identities into the One Will of Love that holds life together. Divine Will is the awareness that Reality flows with force, and the easiest way to deal with this force is to move with it. The True function of Divine Will is complete surrender to what is happening, without holding on. Divine Will is only one Will, one unfolding reality, knowing that everything is 'in God's Hands,' as a palpable reality. We let go and let God.

'Surrendering to Divine Will allows our highest potential to manifest. Divine Will wants only the best for us. Often, we do not know what is the best for us, what will lead us to the highest joy, happiness and enlightened fulfillment, until it happens to us. If we flow with Divine Will, it can be graceful; if we resist it then the power of Gods ruthless compassion and the process of relentless surrender that our souls have already agreed to, will grind us down eventually into accepting it, whether we like it or not. If we are committed, it will keep returning to us, even if we do not initially act on it. This too is Love.

'Recognizing this releases, us from the compulsive need to do, to fight, and to resist what is happening in our present moment, our present experience of life right now. We start to see that our identity, our sense of value, does not depend on doing. This brings freedom from the ego, joy, and openness when we tangibly experience ourselves as part of the unfolding Divine Will, as part of a whole that all works together, and is interconnected. This recognition can then lead to spontaneous Divine Action.

'This Action is not afraid to apply pressure in different ways in different situations, sometimes through softness, sometimes with a sword. Sometimes with penetrating insistency, sometimes in merely holding an unyielding, invincible space silently for others to feel supported by.

'When we surrender to Divine Will as it is occurring right now, our deepest hearts desires manifest in the most glorious of ways. All is included and nothing is left out. We receive everything we have ever wanted. Divine Will is the activator of our soul blueprint. We become aware of our soul blueprint throughout our life, in the intuitions and Remembrances that crop up again, and again.

'Divine Will provides the means, at the right time and with surrender, to fulfil these Remembrances of who we are, no matter how fantastic or seemingly unattainable they may seem to be at the time of remembering them.

POWER

'Divine Will has an Adamantine core that is invincible, invulnerable, yet which can also be shifted into the softest, purest, love as and when required. The true use of Will allows love to flourish. It stands behind love and compassion as the fuel for sustained joy and strength in our lives.

'To be truly strong requires that we are truly selfless. That our Will is clear, directed, focused, and yet also ready to expand and embrace any person, relationship, and situation at any time, because true Will is aligned to love. Will power is connected between the solar plexus and third eye. Divine Will is directed selfless seeing with the eyes of the heart. Divine Will states that I Am God and can command this to be so. Will is what makes us stand up and be counted as God. We have the Will to surrender and embody the Divine. In your heart you know what these steps are. In your solar plexus you can feel what the gaps are that prevent you from standing in this, to being fully selfless in a dynamic, vital, and constant way.

'When you are integrated in the flow of Divine Will, you give, and you get, more energy from giving, because there are no gaps in your embodiment of Divine Will, in both the solar plexus and third eye. If you get tired from giving, then there are gaps in your solar plexus and your third eye. And you are not including all of yourself in the act of serving.

'To serve God, God being Self and all others as One, is to be immensely strong. Strength provides the foundation for any enlightened civilization, and for an enlightened person. Without this strength, belief systems form. And when these belief systems are pushed hard enough, they will collapse. With enough knowledge and surrender to divine will, all belief systems will dissolve in the present moment.

'Divine Will is the power to include yourself in serving the good of the All. Divine Will states, I AM ONE and I AM ALL OF THIS. Divine Will is a catalyst. It shakes the tree of conditioning, it shakes the tree of beliefs, it shakes people to their core. This may not suit many people whose idea of Will is the small self-empowerment, whose goals and desires are to serve themselves and to keep their egos in place. Divine Will batters the door down, and if used skilfully can crush the ego, allowing love to surface.

'This is not wrath; this is destruction in order to bring forth a new creation. Divine Will also destroys where there is no other way. Where the foundation of a person, a belief, a system, or a country itself is so corrupted that it needs to be destroyed. Love does not destroy these creations, Divine Will does, Divine power does, as the instrument of Love.

'And this is very necessary for many, many, millions of people. For their creations to be destroyed, their foundations to be shaken up, in order for their own love to rise up, to step into their union with the Divine; to be Self. This may bring up fear for you, and if you still feel fear then this is love talking to you Now.

'One does not reach embodiment without reaching Divine Will. Without that unshakeable core, no building can be built, and if your building is going to rise to infinity, then one had better start creating or destroying the foundation one already has, in order that it may be permanent, instead of temporary. Divine Will and Divine Power serve love. Love then generates more Divine Power, which in turn serves love, and generates more Divine power, and so on, into infinity. The bridge between love and power is wisdom.

'Divine Power can never be usurped, manipulated, or controlled. It stands whole without qualification, without condition, without division. It cannot be compartmentalized; it cannot be analysed. People may judge Divine Will because they do not flow with Divine Will, because they secretly desire Divine Will, because they are scared of the power that they themselves hold.

'Divine Will can be loud and overt, it can be quiet and, in the background, it can be within any, and all, expressions. One thing it always is, is immovable, and grounding. Divine Will grounds Self onto earth. Without it, you will just be floating in space. Divine Will is the centre of your being. Within this centre lies love. Divine Will occurs when you let go of control, in trust and conscious surrender. This occurs when you understand that every aspect of your life is divinely animated, and you relax and let the flow take you where it wants to go: Not my will but Thy will be done.

'God has total awareness of all events always. If God had created human beings with free will which is out of His awareness, He would have abdicated His omnipotence the moment humans first exercised that free will. If God remains truly omnipotent, there is no free will, just ideas around it.

'Divine Will is choiceless flow. We no longer think we know but surrender our ideas and allow. There is no longer any illusion of choice, as we have given up this illusion to flow with our highest potential, the Will of God.

THE SHADOWSIDE

'One cannot allow True Will to arise if one does not recognize the imposter taking its place. False will of the separate doer is the willpower we use in the world to force things to happen. The ego mind believes that its personal efforts are required to make good things happen. Most humans cannot think about Will without imagining some sort of effort in our definition, involving success and the value of hard work. True Will, however, is not solely about hard work; it is about surrender.

'When false will power overtakes and obsesses one without the softness of intimacy and surrender, with just a fierce one-pointed drive, you miss relating to all parts of you. Will and fire leaves one very much alone, and lonely, lacking something. Love. In this aloneness others too will leave you alone. The cycle perpetuates itself, for when you separate yourself from something dear, you then continue the pattern or cycle of separation.

'John came to fulfil the Prophecies of the Messiah, and yet at the same time he left something out in his fierce determination to fulfil his mission; he left out his humanity. It is this inclusion of his humanity, of intimacy and the personal, that would have made him immortal and raised him to the level of Yeshua. The shadow side of ruthless compassion is that sometimes it can lack compassion, and bulldoze people and situations in a self-appointed way, creating a haphazard balance of forces that can become very one-sided. This one-sidedness creates duality, superiority /inferiority, fragmentations, and belief systems. These belief systems become the basis of institution, governments, and religions.

'They say that religions are based in faith, we say they are based on wrong use of Will. Gifts have been given and are abused. When those who try to control through wrong use of will use these reasons to create institutions or religions, they are merely exerting their strong self-will over weak-willed subservient people, to create their own power structures. Wrong use of will leads to control. Awakening is about letting go of any, and all, control.

'Rest, beauty, joy, ease, and deep relaxation are the antidote to this. A holiday works well here. The shadow side of ruthless compassion is being too focused, too intent on awakening, too intent on getting 'there.' without the feminine, the passivity and receptivity being present to guide the right actions. Too much fire without water leads to the softer qualities of love, of the feminine, being burnt away; kindness, softness, compassion, consideration for the other aspects of the totality of a person or a situation to be included in the fierce drive for transformation.

'Bluntness, harshness, insensitivity masquerading as radical or brutal honesty can actually turn people off. Without patience, understanding, and tolerance of the differences, one can just become a pitiless taskmaster on yourself, as well as others. This leads to parts of yourself closing down, as the more delicate parts will try and hide, will close off and not open, to try and protect itself.

NOT SHARING

'Giving your life, placing your soul at the altar of God, allows God to animate and flow through you. If you give everything, then everything will be given. In this perfection one becomes Present. The secrecy in which John taught, limiting his circle, inevitably leads to a form of constriction. The moment we start building a fortress around ourselves and what we have to share we limit ourselves and our potential. This is a form of clinging to what you feel is your treasure, your possession, and your right.

'What are you clinging to? What do you feel is so valuable that you cannot share it, that you feel you have to protect it? What is your dream that you are keeping under wraps, waiting for a right time that may never come. The remedy may be as simple as sharing openly with a friend, sharing your love with a stranger on the street, being your authentic self; opening and being who you are to everyone, and not hoarding yourself to only those who you feel understand. If we do not share freely who we are, and our unique gifts and talents, then there is a danger that these gifts will become stale, stagnant, and worthless.

'Whatever you are hoarding or protecting, remember that you can never take it with you into eternity; all that goes into eternity is your naked, and liberated, soul. Let go and freely share all that you are! Be open, and more openness will come your way. Expand and share, and more expansion and loving communion will happen with others.

'Living in abundance rather than at the minimum, living in the overflowing of Life, means your life reaches out to others, and touches them; your wisdom, bliss, and gifts flow to others as they flow within you, and then it increases. This is where the Baptist expands into Christ: spreading and sharing the love that you have for God with other beings, who are but God too. Spreading this joy around for others to drink also shows, in action, that there is no separation between you, your neighbour, and God itself. Meditation becomes a moment to rejuvenate rather than the sole way to connect with God, as now people become the meditation as aspects of God, your own Self.

'The inclusion of sexuality transmuted into loving softness, of richly seductive and enjoyable possibilities, the feminine flow, is the neglected side of ruthless compassion. The celebration of life and love, combined with the essential aspects of meditational austerity and alone time, create a whole way of being. So, invite and give to others the fruit of your own labours, so they may drink what you have earned.' End Excerpt.

Having offered all this information to use from within your own Discernment and responsibilities I will close now. Where you go from here is down to you, You are the One's who have the Grant to make the choices of how things should act out here from this moment one. Do that in whatever way your 'free will', 'Divine Will', your own 'personality power' or 'Divine Power', your own 'personality understanding' or God's Impersonality Divine Understanding' guides you to do.

You are the Masters of Your Own Ship. Set Sail for All Foreign Lands to share the Bounty of the Wealth that God and Universal Consciousness Brings them.
