

IN THE SILENCE OF YOUR OWN ESSENCE - PETER

Beloved God I Am, of Incorruptible Matter, at Infinite Speed, I have just realised that I have not communicated with you for more than a year now! I must admit, I feel like I have fallen off the cart and am finding it so disorientating to set myself any sort of focus, apart from my book to my boys. I know that I/We have a Blank Canvas before us as detailed in our Communiqué on June 12th, 2012. The review of all the material in my book reminded me a great deal of why I Am here, yet what do I do about any of it? I guess that is my question, where to from here? It seems like no mistake that I found the painting of Akaine yesterday and saw what she is doing with her blank canvases! Such an inspiration I must say. Can you share any perspectives that may strike a new course of co-creative action? Thank You.

Greeting Dear Heart, and as you have set forth the request many have instantly appeared, gathering together to offer Their Love and Hearts' Desires to be of assistance. You could never imagine the Abundance of All That Is that has rallied here beside you now. This is true to say this Abundance is available to all who ask within these higher vibrational frequencies now upon Earth. So let Us Unite as One and with One Voice resonate The Joy that We Desire to share with you.

Today is a Blessing, in the same way the each day brings new Blessings to all of humanity. Today is as it has been explain in the previous communiqué another New Blank Canvas that awaits the first stroke of the Brush of Creation that you desire for yourself and for humanity. Yet We say unto you, first you must have an inspiration, a vision, and idea, an imagining that will Guide your hands and Heart to choose the correct tools and colours to paint with. There is no need for Us to repeat the last communiqué for the words would be the same, so We shall add these alternate points of view for you to consider more deeply.

Time is not of the Essence, it is the Essence that is in the time you spend. You see Beloved it matters not what you do with your time within this incarnation, what does matter is the Essence by which you live it. You know the expression “you chop wood and carry water before you are spiritual and you chop wood and carry water after your enlightenment”. In other words, there are no changes from a physical standpoint within this human experience regarding the work required to create, earn and live a livelihood. As a biological form this is all part of the manifestation of being human.

However, it is how one performs the everyday tasks that offer the difference between the mundane experience or the exceptional one. The extraordinary moments are achieved by the simple things that one does mindfully and emotionally with the intention to create the Essence of God within the Time available to you while performing you everyday duties. We wish to emphasize here that the humanness of life is just one side of the experience and in many ways is the reason why you are here. It is the only way that you will achieve what you all have set yourselves to accomplish your goals, from a Soul and Higher Self perspective. The key therefore is to be in communication with these aspects of yourself and God so that while you are within time, you create with it so that it works for you. Should you place the God Essence within it by being mindful of Who You Truly Are, the experience of the mundane will change its perspective from however you may perceive that to an extraordinary one.

Remember Dear Soul that growth is the result of all human experiences if one has the Mind to oversee life with the Divine Truth of each experience. To grow spiritually one indeed is being asked to follow their heart feelings or the Essence of The Divine that resonates from within the Heart Centre. If the flow of Love Vibration is High then it will manifest freedom from the mundane. Freedom to do anything that you desire, even what may be deemed the very ordinary things that are required to move forward, one step at a time.

Everyone is being asked now to step up to the realisation not only that they are Wholly Connected with the Essence of God and the Christed Consciousness but to Now begin to truly place it within their lives, each moment of every minute, hour and day. Many speak of it, yet We are sorry to say very few actually have the will to walk the very Essence of Who They Are in Their time here on Earth. We Know there are so many daily distractions, so many reasons not to find the Joy within the Connections and Communications with your Soul, Higher Consciousness and God, yet We say to you, without the time spent with this commitment to your Soul, the dedication to the time you have on Earth, the persistence to make every moment count, the purpose for which you have come here and the Joy of your Ultimate experience, nothing much will change without further delays, more feelings of despondency, more bodily aches and pains, dis-easement and imbalances of all natures will continue.

Time itself is not a problem, however, it is what you do with your time that will make the difference. Just as the Angels have flooded in here today to help and assist you, they await every call from every human being who asks for guidance now. For We all Know just how potent time is when spent in the Highest Vibrations possible at any single moment. We could say a great deal more here, yet this shall speak volumes when the time today is found to sit in the Silence of Your Own Essence; be it chopping wood, carrying water or doing nothing but Loving the moment you are in while sharing it consciously with God and your own Higher Being.

We bid you an enlightened day.

Until next We share

Namaste

Thank you my friends

Peter
