

POINTS OF TENSION

This heading 'Points of Tension' does not mean 'tension' in our normal understanding from our human perspectives but means from the Higher Understanding of 'Focus'. So, it reads in simple terms of immediate awareness for our consciousness 'Points of Focus'!

It is far more complicated than that, even this word 'focus' and it shall be your own personality will to align with your Higher Spiritual Will to find the expanding definitions of this reference Tension or Focus, although the word 'focus' is not used here other than a hint toward the comprehension of this lesson! Don't worry however, it is all explained in the I4 Rules for Group Initiation and Group Construction of the Antahkarana through the individual/Group Building of the Rainbow Bridge.

You see, the Masters, and the Hierarchy, indeed Members of Shamballa, at these Levels of Consciousness, never tell us all the information directly and only speak to us in terms of analogies, correlations, similarities, parables, symbols, allegories, hints and suggestions; never straight direct understanding, this we have to decipher ourselves as Disciples or Initiates, for the purpose of Self Realization through personal experiences. This is done so that the Truth of Creation, its Cosmic Laws and Rules through their use cannot be misused by uninitiated beings or entities of lower vibrational frequencies, without first having the Vibrational Resonances to use the 'Word of God' ONLY for the Benevolence of All, without question. It is Our safeguard against misuse of the Powers of Creation. That is why I believe today we are being led within the New 7th Golden Age to become Members of Group environments, so as to gain deeper understanding more quickly, than we would individually do otherwise.

Djwhal Khul says;

"One can't study individual Initiation to any serious depth without also considering Group Initiation. Group awareness and service grows as the individual personality is refined through the first few Initiations. After a certain point, individual Initiation and Group Initiation are inseparably linked, because the individual is integrated with his or her group and has transcended self-interest and individual will. Hierarchical Level concepts can be better understood in a group context, or on an individual level by aligning and identifying more with the group. With respect to the individual Antahkarana, 'when the disciple has flung one strand of living light (through the power of magnetic love) across the space separating the Triad and the personality, he discovers that he is a part of a group'".

"A particular Group is usually composed of individuals at varied stages on the spiritual Path, who have achieved different levels of personal Initiation. In general, it seems that the status of a group as a whole is lower than the average of the individuals within it. For example, a group of seekers who have passed the Second Initiation individually probably haven't developed their group as a whole enough to reach an equivalent level. I like to use an analogy based on music: A collection of skilled musicians thrown together doesn't make a skilled orchestra, at least not until they practice together and develop experience as a group".

Before I can share the next part relating to the Techniques of Building one's Rainbow Bridge, I would invite you to read this excerpt from 'Discipleship in the New Age Vol II' by Alice Bailey and Djwhal Khul once again. DK Says;

"I wish to Unfold to you and reveal the techniques of work, preparatory to Initiation. I referred to this earlier (in Vol. I, Page 99): 'As time goes on, I shall bridge between the old techniques and the newer modes of training by using a part of the ancient technique, now becoming somewhat obsolete, and give you hints as to the nature and methods of educating accepted disciples in the processes of Initiation.'

"You will note, therefore, that it is my intention to give you such hints. This I shall do from the angle of Initiation and in preparation for the second or the third Initiation. Bear this in mind. Hitherto I have not taught you from that particular angle, but I have instructed you as accepted disciples in training for preparation—a much earlier stage. These hints I will convey to you in the ancient symbolic formulas which will require much deep reflection on your part and an effort to evoke the intuition and thus arrive at the three meanings which they hold for you, and for disciples like you. There are literally seven meanings, but I would advise you to confine yourself to the comprehension of the first three. There will be one meaning for your personality, indicating certain brain and mind realisations which are essential for the right transmission of force upon the physical plane—one of the first things an initiate has to master. There will be the soul meaning which will indicate relation to the Hierarchy, in the same way that the personality significance will indicate relationship to humanity. Then there will be a still higher meaning which will be exceedingly difficult for you to grasp, but for which you must strive, and which will necessitate the consciously acquired use of the Antahkarana. You will understand, therefore, why the study of the Science of the Antahkarana forms part of my instruction to this Group. No major Initiation can be taken until there is some measure of conscious use of the Antahkarana".

And;

"The accepted disciple never receives any detailed information or instruction; he is given no list of rules which must govern his daily life and no minute instructions as to what he must do to "take Initiation." He receives—at specific "points in time"—according to his success in expanding his consciousness, certain definite hints. These hints have, in the past, been given without calling attention to the fact that they are hints. The disciple either recognised them for what they were and profited thereby, or else he failed to sense their import and so delayed his moving forward. In this group experiment which I am undertaking, I propose to change this somewhat and I shall let you know which the hints are I give, so that together the group may profit by them, stimulated by each presented idea and thus evoke together the overshadowing soul. This will result, eventually, in an inflow of light from the Spiritual Triad via the Group Antahkarana, constructed of the 'Rainbow Bridge' of each disciple”.

Through the Studies we have received to date with the Elemental Grace Alliance, its Discourses and all the hints we have received, we are aware that this Building of the Rainbow Bridge and its past techniques, although have proved very successful are now out of date; mainly due to the heightened Consciousness Awareness of Lightworkers today and the increased average Levels of Vibrational Frequencies and Light Quotients of those who now are making up the New World Servers.

DK says in Rule 3 of I4 Rules of Group Initiation;

“New truths (and by that, I mean truths which are new to the most advanced thinkers and which are only dimly sensed by the most advanced esotericist) are hovering on the horizon of the human mind. The ground is being prepared for the sowing of this new seed and the stage set for the emergence of new Actors in the great drama of the unfolding revelation of Deity.

“Certain great concepts are firmly grasped by mankind. Certain great hopes are taking form and will become the pattern of human living. Certain great speculations will become experimental theories and later prove demonstrated facts. Behind all this, two things are happening: human beings are being stimulated and brought to that point of necessary tension which (as a result of a crisis) must precede a great moving forward upon the Path of Evolution. Secondly, a process of reorientation is going on which will eventually enable the mass of humanity to present a united front upon views hitherto regarded as the vague visions of intelligent and optimistic dreamers. A great stirring and moving is going on. The world of human beings is seething in response to the inflow of spiritual energy. This energy has been evoked by the unrealized and inaudible cry of humanity itself. Humanity has become—for the first time in its history—spiritually invocative”.

So, we are going to give you the links of present day techniques for you to study, feel into and try out. In the meantime, within the Sun of Even Pressure Disciple Council, we are now upgraded these techniques to suit the new Energetic dynamics for the present day and sometime into the future. We are still in the process right now of testing these techniques, so in due course we shall be placing these here on our Website for open dissemination worldwide. We have heard the hints, been given certain instructions through Discourse Messages and now we are creatively at work to make these needed changes! So please bear this in mind and we shall speak of these again soon.

For now, reviewing all the present material that is directly linked to the DK Books, will get this process up and running and the Building of the Rainbow Bridge Foundations through knowledge and practice will serve you well!

Again, we must tell you, the Building of the Rainbow Bridge is a personal endeavour and so like the map analogies in previous messages here, is your full and sole responsibility to do the searches and find that which serves you the most! But if you are serious about your next Initiation into Higher Consciousness the sooner you begin or continue more earnestly, the better for your own growth and development. That is why we are here, to assist you in whatever way we can to help this become a reality for you all! It will take some hard work, but with that, far more will be able to be presented to you that makes far more sense as you ascend toward your next Initiation.

We look forward to hearing from you.

God Bless You.
